

Student Rights

What rights do undocumented students have?

Undocumented students have the right to attend public K-12 schools in California. They also have the right to attend public colleges and universities in California. However, they are not eligible for state financial aid and may be ineligible for federal financial aid. They also have the right to work in California and to apply for a driver's license.

